

Information from Östgöta Nation regarding Covid-19

Dear members of Östgöta Nation,

The government recommended on March 17 all universities and colleges to switch to distance education from March 18, due to the prevailing situation regarding Covid-19. Lund University adheres to the Governmental and Public Health Authority's new recommendations and has decided that education and examination will be conducted using online alternatives (distance education) from 18 March.

As a result of Lund University's decision, and to reduce the spread of infection by Covid-19 and safeguard society's healthcare resources, Östgöta Nation has decided to shut down all its activities from March 18 until further notice. Meanwhile, the nation will continue to work internally, with a focus on improvement and development.

Östgöta Nation will continue to follow the course of events and the recommendations of the authorities closely. We urge all our members to do the same and keep up to date as well as follow the authorities' recommendations.
